WELCOME MESSAGE

Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of the Egyptian Society of Chest Diseases and Tuberculosis, it is our great pleasure to welcome you to the 67th International Conference (ESCT), taking place from 19th–23rd October 2026.

This year, under the theme “Breathing the Future and Honoring the Past: 67 Years of Excellence in Chest Medicine and Respiratory Care”, we celebrate a distinguished legacy of scientific leadership while looking forward to the next era of innovation and excellence.

The conference will bring together physicians, researchers, young talents, academicians and industry partners from around the world to exchange knowledge, share breakthroughs, and shape the future of chest medicine and respiratory care.

With a rich scientific program, interactive sessions, international faculty, and state-of-the-art scientific exhibitions, we aim to inspire impactful collaboration and a renewed commitment to advancing respiratory health in Egypt and the region.

We look forward to welcoming you to Cairo for an unforgettable scientific and professional experience.
